ABSTRACT

This document, which is intended to serve as a guide for workforce preparation program providers, details the Illinois Occupational Skill Standards for occupational education in the floristry cluster. The document begins with a brief overview of the Illinois perspective on occupational skill standards and credentialing, the process used to develop the skill standards, and assumptions underlying the standards. Presented next are skill standards for 27 tasks typically performed by individuals employed in floristry occupations. Each skill standard statement contains the following components: (1) a job summary; (2) the actual skill standard (including the conditions of performance, work to be performed, and performance criteria); (3) performance elements and assessment criteria; and (4) a recommended assessment and credentialing approach. The following are among the tasks for which skill standards are provided: handling customer requests; dealing with visitors and vendors; merchandising products and services; preparing designs and plants for delivery; and planning a store design and caring for plant materials. Appended are the following: glossary; lists of Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentialing Council, Agriculture and Natural Resources Subcouncil, and Floristry Standards Development Committee members; Agriculture and Natural Resources Subcouncil Floristry Cluster Recognition Proposal; and a list of workplace skills. MESSAGE TO ILLINOIS CITIZENS

Dear Citizens of Illinois:

Preparing youth and adults to enter into the workforce and to be able to contribute to society throughout their lives is critical to the economy of Illinois. Public and private interest in establishing national and state systems of industry-driven skill standards and credentials is growing in the United States, especially for occupations that require less than a four-year college degree. This interest stems from the understanding that the United States will increasingly compete internationally and the need to increase the skills and productivity of the front-line workforce. The major purpose of skill standards and credentialing systems are to promote education and training investment and ensure that this education and training enables students and workers to meet industry standards that are benchmarked to our major international competitors.

The Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentialing Council (IOSSCC) has been working with industry subcouncils, the Illinois State Board of Education and other partnering agencies to adopt, adapt and/or develop skill standards for high-demand occupations. This document represents the work of the Agriculture and Natural Resources Subcouncil and the associated standards development committee. Through this collaborative effort, skill standards products are being developed for a myriad of industries, occupational clusters and occupations. Upon completion of these products, there will be a period of feedback and comment from business, industry and labor representatives as well as educators.

These documents will serve as a guide to workforce preparation program providers in defining content for their programs and to employers to establish the skills and standards necessary for job acquisition. These standards will also serve as a mechanism for communication among education, business, industry and labor.

We encourage you to review these standards and share your comments. This effort has involved a great many people from business, industry and labor. Comments regarding their usefulness in curriculum and assessment design as well as needs for inservice and technical assistance in their implementation are critical to our efforts to move forward and improve the documents.

THE ILLINOIS PERSPECTIVE

The Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentialing Council (IOSSCC) endorses occupational skill standards and credentialing systems for occupations that (a) require basic workplace skills and technical training, (b) provide a large number of jobs with either moderate or high earnings, and (c) provide career advancement opportunities to related occupations with moderate or high earnings. The nine-member Council was established by the Occupational Skill Standards Act (PA 87-1210). The council, representing business, industry and labor and working with the Illinois State Board of Education in partnership with the Illinois Community College Board, Illinois Board of Higher Education, Illinois Department of Employment Security and Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, has created a common vision for workforce development in Illinois.

Vision

It is the vision of the IOSSCC to develop a statewide system of industry-defined and recognized skill standards and credentials for all major skilled occupations providing strong employment and earnings opportunities in Illinois. Information related to occupational employment and earning opportunities is determined by the Illinois Occupational Information Coordinating Committee (IOICC) in cooperation with business and industry.

Subcouncils and Standards Development Committees

Under the direction of the Council, and in cooperation with organizations such as the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, the Illinois AFL-CIO, the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, and others, Industry Subcouncils have been formed to review, approve and promote occupational Skill Standards and credentialing systems. The Industry Subcouncils are Agriculture and Natural Resources; Applied Science and Engineering*; Business and Administrative Information Services; Communications; Construction*; Educational Services*; Energy and Utilities*; Financial Services; Health and Social Services; Hospitality; Legal and Protective Services*; Manufacturing; Marketing and Retail Trade; and Transportation, Distribution and Logistics. (*Subcouncils currently being formed.)

The Standards Development Committees, composed of business, labor and education representatives, are experts in the related occupational cluster and work with the product developer to

- develop or validate occupational skill standards,
- identify related academic skills,
- develop or review assessment or credentialing approaches, and
- recommend endorsement of the standards and credentialing system to the industry subcouncil.

Expected Benefits for Employers, Educators, Students and Workers

Occupational skill standards and credentialing systems are being developed and promoted by the IOSSCC to improve Illinois' competitiveness. Such standards and credentialing systems provide a common language for employers, workers, students and education and training providers to communicate skill requirements and quality expectations for all major industry and occupational areas.

For Employers, skill standards will

- Improve employee recruitment and retention by more clearly identifying skill requirements,
- Encourage improved responsiveness and performance of education and training providers,
- Enlarge the pool of skilled workers,
- Focus attention on the importance of training investment.

For Education and Training Providers, skill standards will

- Provide information to all major industries and occupations,
- Contribute to program and curriculum development,
- Strengthen relationships between education and training providers,
- Improve career planning.

For Students and Workers, skill standards will

- Foster better decision making concerning careers and the training necessary to acquire well-paying jobs,
- Allow more effective communication with employers about what they know and can do,
- Allow more effective work with employers in career development and skill upgrading.

IOSSCC Requirements for Occupational Skill Standards

Any occupational skill standards and credentialing system seeking IOSSCC endorsement must

- represent an occupation or occupational cluster which meets the criteria for IOSSCC endorsement;
- address both content and performance standards for critical work functions and activities for an occupation or occupational area;
- ensure formal validation and endorsement by a representative group of employers and workers within an industry;
- provide for review, modification and revalidation by an industry group a minimum of once every five years;
- award credentials based on assessment approaches that are supported and endorsed by the industry and consistent with nationally recognized guide lines for validity and reliability;
- provide widespread access and information to the general public in Illinois;
- include marketing and promotion by the industry in cooperation with the partner state agencies.

Definitions and Endorsement Criteria

The definitions and endorsement criteria are designed to promote the integration of existing and future industry-recognized standards, as well as the integration of the Illinois academic and occupational skill standards. Because all skill standards must address the critical work functions and activities for an occupation or industry/occupational area, the Council further defined three major components:

- Conditions of Performance: The information, tools, equipment and other resources provided to a person for a work performance.
- Work to Be Performed: A description of the work to be performed by a person.
- Performance Criteria: The criteria used to determine the required level of performance. These criteria could include product characteristics (e.g., accuracy levels, appearance), process or procedural requirements (e.g., safety, standard professional procedures) and time and resource requirements. The IOSSCC also requires performance criteria to be further specified by detailed individual performance elements and assessment criteria.

The IOSSCC is currently working with the Illinois State Board of Education and other state agencies to integrate the occupational standards with the Illinois academic standards which describe what students should know and be able to do as a result of their education. The Council is also working to integrate workplace skills—problem solving, critical thinking, teamwork, etc.—with both the academic and occupational skill standards.

The Illinois Model

Illinois Occupational Skill Standards describe what people should know and be able to do and how well these skills and knowledge will be demonstrated in an occupational setting. They focus on the most critical work performances for an occupation or occupational area. As seen in the following model, Illinois Occupational Skill Standards contain at least these three areas:

- Performance Skill
- Skill Standard
- Performance Elements and Assessment Criteria

The following sections may also be included at the discretion of the specific standards development committee:

- Performance Area
- Assessment and Credentialing Approach

Illinois Occupational Skill Standards carry a coding at the top of each page identifying the state, fiscal year in which standards were endorsed, subcouncil abbreviation, cluster abbreviation and standard number. For example, the tenth skill standard in the Floristry Cluster, which has been developed by the Agriculture and Natural Resources Subcouncil, would carry the following coding: IL.96.ANR.FLC.10

A model for Illinois Occupational Skill Standards showing the placement of the coding and providing a description of each area within a standard is contained on the following page.

DEVELOPMENTAL PROCESS

After studying current labor market information and noting the availability of an industry that currently has a certification program in place, the Agriculture and Natural Resources Subcouncil recommended the retail florist industry to be the first occupational area for which performance skill standards would be developed. This cluster meets the criteria established by the Illinois Occupational Skill Standards and Credentialing Council (IOSSCC) for performance skill standards development; education and training requirements, employment opportunities, earnings potential, and/or career opportunities. The careers identified in the floristry cluster begin with retail floral delivery person, retail floral cashier, floral salesperson, floral designer, retail floral shop department supervisor, retail floral shop manager and eventually retail floral shop owner.

A product developer knowledgeable with the floristry cluster occupations began the process of performance skill identification. Given the range within the several occupations and scope of a business, the initial charge for the product developer was to prepare an organizational framework that would address the major work performances in the workplace. This framework set the parameter for addressing the skill performances desired by the floral industry.

Resources included job descriptions from The Dictionary of Occupational Titles and the floristry industry; competencies addressed in postsecondary educational programs; V-TECS materials; and Illinois task lists developed to form the basis of instructional content for secondary, postsecondary and adult occupational training programs. Certification tests, training manuals and teaching outlines provided by the Illinois State Florist Association reinforced the direction given in the framework. The National Vocational Qualification Skill Performance Standards and Examinations for Horticulture from the United Kingdom were also used in determining framework and direction.

A standards development committee composed of workers at all levels within the floristry cluster was convened. The framework and initial outline of performance skill standards were developed, reviewed, revised and validated. During two, two-day meetings, the framework was accepted and the outline of skill standards finalized. Work was also completed on assessment criteria and credentialing in accordance with the direction established by the IOSSCC. The product developer submitted the draft performance skill standards to the standards development committee for review and revision. The standards development committee met to review and approve the skill standards.

Performance elements and assessment criteria were developed using industry standards. The skill standards outline the specific criteria expected for evaluation in the workplace. Criteria are behavioral statements of performance skill standards. As such, they serve as an evaluation tool and workplace guide.

A set of performance skill standards was provided to the Agriculture and Natural Resources Subcouncil. Comments submitted by members of the subcouncil and those requested from other reviewers have been integrated into the final product. After approval copies were distributed for further review by the floristry community, the Illinois State Florist Association sent a letter of commitment to distribute, publicize and periodically review and update the skill standards.

ASSUMPTIONS FOR FLORISTRY CLUSTER STANDARDS

Skill standards statements assume:

1. Workplace skills (employability skills) are expected of all floristry workers, including those in the grocery industry. Those are not included with this set of statements. However, the standards development committee identified two workplace skills that should be emphasized for the floristry cluster: (1) communicating with associates and (2) receiving and transmitting verbal and written information. These two communication skills were identified as essential for success in the floristry cluster.
2. All skills are to be accompanied by a 'work environment' check that would leave the site neat and clean, a safe place in which to live and work. This would comply with Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) and Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) requirements and directives.
3. The rights of individuals will be known to the floristry workers as part of their educational process and will be respected and expected as part of employment.
4. Specific company policies and procedures of the worksite will be made known to the floristry workers and will be followed. Policies and procedures may vary from company to company.
5. Certification conditions will be conducive to meeting the standard of performance. Standard equipment in the floristry industry will be used. The equipment will be identified prior to the certification testing.
6. The range of plant materials (flowers and foliages), soil media and fertilizer types will be defined in the certification system. Time elements will be outlined for the skill standards at the certification testing and will result from the experience and consideration of a panel who are members of the Illinois State Florist Association.
7. Socialization skills needed for work are viewed in relation to the lifelong career experience and are not solely part of the initial educational experience.
8. The skill standards are intended to reflect competencies at entry to the identified occupation.
9. Skills will progress from the simple to the complex. Once a skill level has been successfully performed, it will be incorporated into more complex skills.
